WATER JEL R1, WATER JEL R2

Our Oncological Department of Jihlava Hospital got an opportunity to test WATER JEL R1 and R2.

After application during radiotherapy we could observe a fast effect of post-radiation reaction reduction up to continual skin healing in the treated area. When R1 and R2 were used as a prevention (from the beginning of radiotherapy) there occurred almost no post-radiation reaction during the entire treatment, seldom only at the last several fractions and nursing measures in such cases were not difficult.

After these positive experiences we decided to use this product at selected patients with radiotherapy focused on the area of head and neck as a routine practice simultaneously with the first fraction.

According to our experiences it is evident that R1 R2 significantly increases the quality of oncology patients during radiotherapy both at therapeutic and preventive use. We identified that patients who had used R1&R2 the hospital did not have to incur any other costs in regards to using dressings etc. In all cases it is necessary to instruct patients how to apply this product and he has to cooperate with nursing personnel.
